upon no other view do i make a dedication of this discourse to your lordship then to submit it to your acute judgment expecting soon to hear of your approbation or dislike of it if it so happen that you highly approve of it i beg of you to be sparing of your commendations least i should be puff d up with them in my moderator some expressions dropt from my pen about the miracles of our saviour which for want of illustration then gave your lordship some offence and brought upon me more trouble but having now fully and clearly explain d my self out of the fathers i hope you ll be reconciled to me and as you are a lover of truth will against interest and prejudice yield to the force of it whether your prosecution of me for the moderator was just and reasonable i ll not dispute here having already expostulated that matter with you in several letters to which you would not condescend to give me any answer for what reason you was silent is best known to your self but in my own vindication i hope i may publish without offence that your taking me for an infidel was such a mistake as i thought no scholar could have made and the injury done to my reputation and low fortunes by the prosecution so considerable that the least i expected from your lordship was a courteous excuse if not an ample compensation for it as to the expediency of prosecuting infidels for their writings in whose cause i am the farthest of any man from being engaged i will here say nothing the argument pro and con has already by one or other been copiously handled and i don t know but i might be with your lordship on the persecuting side of the question but that it looks as if a man was distrustful of the truth of christianity and conscious of his own inability to defend it or he would leave that good cause to god himself and the sword of the spirit without calling upon the civil magistrate for his aid and assistance that scurvy writer of the scheme of literal prophecy c which your lordship must have heard of would insinuate that they are only atheistical priests who for fear of their interests in the church set persecutions on foot but after your lordship has publish d a strenuous defence of christianity to the purpose of our present controversy i ll have no such suspicions of you your lordship s persecuting or if you will prosecuting humour is reputedly all pure zeal for god s glory and with all my heart let it be so accounted whether it be according to knowledge or not against popery and infidelity you are all ardency who does not commend you who can question the sincerity of the zeal of a protestant bishop and of a protestant clergy when they persecute the enemies of their church that considers their own steadiness to principles against interest under all changes since the reformation and their abhorrence of extortion upon the people for the duties of their function in and about this city such honesty and constancy in their profession is a proof of the integrity of their hearts or i know not where to find one
