i have always believed that courage is not the absence of fear but the determination to move forward in spite of it there was a time when i would run through the fields feel the wind on my face and dream of flying my body was strong my career was on the rise and life seemed to me a sea of infinite possibilities but in an instant everything changed the ground disappeared beneath me and when i opened my eyes again i realized that that body that had once taken me anywhere now no longer obeyed me many said that i would never get out of bed again that my life as i knew it was over but i ask you what defines a man is it what he can do physically or is it what he carries within himself a hero is an ordinary individual who finds the strength to persevere and endure despite overwhelming obstacles i lived this truth yes i was superman on screen but the biggest lesson i learned is that no power comes from the outside true strength is born from our ability not to give up to believe that life can always be greater than any limitation true heroism is not in flying or having superpowers it is in each of us in the resilience to face pain in the courage to continue in the faith that no matter what happens there is always hope
